PROSPERITY IS HERE; GLENDALE WILL CELEBRATE

PROBLEMS OF CITY UNDER DISCUSSION BY DIRECTORS

IMPORTANT MEETING HELD BY CHAMBER OF COMMERCE HEADS LAST NIGHT

City Manager T. W. Watson appeared before the board of directors of the Glendale Chamber of Commerce last night and solicited their co-operation in the matter of solving the municipality's problems which have arisen. Principal among the points he made was that of how to extend the public utilities service.

Mr. Watson outlined the needs of the various sections of the city briefly and stated that it is a necessity that bonds be voted for the development and distribution of the water system. He added that there is a matter of policy to be determined as to how four-inch laterals shall be financed. They have got to go in, he told the directors, and must be paid for in some manner.

Three ways suggested are:

1. To raise the present rate of water service.

2. To take part of the expense out of taxation.

3. To assess the improvements directly against the property benefited.

"Other cities," Mr. Watson stated, "are now taking care of their utilities bonds out of the taxes. If we do not do that here we will have to raise the rates."

In answer to a question about the electric system, Mr. Watson added: "I do not believe that we will ever have to issue more bonds for the electrical part of the city's business.

Laddie Is Lost And Then Found; Returns When Police Notified

Laddie, a Pomeranian Spitz, owned by Dr. H. C. Smith, 921 East Wilson avenue, got lost Thursday night.

How he got lost is another matter, but the fact remains that Doctor Smith got on the trail of the dog and found that a boy had adopted him. And boys will do such things.

The method of recovery was quite simple. The doctor notified several groups of boys about town that his dog was gone and that the police were notified. That sort of news flies fast and a little friend of the youngster who had Laddie let it be known that the dog should be returned "muy pronto." That means quickly, very quickly.

It wasn't many minutes before Laddie was again wagging his tail at his master's home.

Hard Soil; Hard Query

Decomposed granite. Very common in places about Glendale.

What grows best on it?

That's what a rancher who lives near Eagle Rock asked Miss Isabel Tisdale at the Chamber of Commerce headquarters this morning.

Easy to answer, some, who are accustomed to gardening, might say, but it was a puzzling question to Miss Tisdale. However, she was equal to the emergency and called City Manager T. W. Watson on the telephone. His experience in the nursery business enabled him to give the desired advice.

But three footsore and weary pedestrians who stopped to learn if there was a chiropodist in town didn't find out. For if there is a corn culturist here, he doesn't advertise.

It looks like a fox terrier.

And it has hair like a French poodle.

It is neither, simply both, otherwise dog.

That's the mascot which took quarters yesterday at Glendale fire station No. 2, Los Feliz Road and Brand boulevard.

Captain Ed Fairfield is the owner of the pup and he says it shows signs of becoming a first-class fireman.

So he has christened it "Chief."

This One Rather Fishy

"I suppose the Ford will be called the sardine next," says Jesse E. Smith, Glendale Ford agent. We buy them by the box (car) and they come twelve in a box (car). You got just about that many sardines in a box when old H. C. of L. was in power, and brothers they were."

Travel Over World, Locate In Glendale

F. J. Lipstreu, who has served in the United States army for over 25 years and traveled to the four corners of the earth, visited Glendale December 15 after coming from Panama via San Francisco and visiting various coast points. With Mrs. Lipstreu and their two children he decided that this was the place to call home and he purchased a residence at 637 North Maryland avenue.

After two months' respite from his duties, he has been ordered to report to San Diego where he will be assigned his station. After two years more service, however, he hopes to return to Glendale and retire. In the meantime the home has been leased for the period of absence.

Mrs. Sophie M. Olsen, Aged 78 Years, Dies

Mrs. Sohpia M. Olsen, aged 78 years, passed away at her home, 643 North Howard street, last night at 9:45 o'clock. She was born December 22, 1842, and was a native of Norway. She had been a resident of Glendale for about a year. Funeral services wil be held Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the residence at 643 North Howard street.

She is survived by a daughter, Mrs. A. Peterson, two grand children and one great grand child. Interment will be at Forest Lawn cemetery. Pulliam & Kiefer Undertaking company will have charge.

JAMES M. RHOADES CHOSEN SECRETARY LOCAL C. OF C.

COMES WELL RECOMMENDED AND IS ALREADY ACTIVE BEHALF ORGANIZATION

James M. Rhoades, former secretary of the Everett (Wash.) Chamber of Commerce and similar organizations in Missoula and Bozeman, Mont., was selected last night as secretary for the local chamber.

Mr. Rhoades has been residing in Long Beach temporarily, but plans moving to Glendale at once and is on the job today, having been notified early today by T. A. Stephenson of the American social reserve of his appointment by the Glendale Chamber of Commerce board of directors.

This action last night followed Mr. Rhoades' personal appearance before the board on Tuesday night, at which time he created a very favorable impression. He also made a very generous offer regarding his services, which was accepted. His experience covers ten years in work similar to that which he will be required to do here.

Comes Well Recommended

The highest recommendations of Mr. Rhoades' work were received both in telegrams and letters from people with whom he has been associated in Washington. A letter from the Merchants' Association of Snohomish County, in which Everett is located, states:

"Through his (Mr. Rhoades') efficient management, the commercial and industrial development of Everett has taken on new life. He has brought new industries to Everett, solely through his own efforts, and moulded a feeling of optimism that never before existed in this city.

"He is a man of energy and push; a tireless and effective worker; pleasing disposition and personality; a man who makes friends and retains them."

Served Term as Mayor

While in Missoula, Mont., Mr. Rhoades served as mayor and is held in high esteem by residents of that state, according to Judge Asa L. Duncan of the district court there.

Many similar notes of praise were received from Seattle and Tacoma, where the new Glendale secretary is well known. He will be introduced to the members at the next Forum meeting, Wednesday noon.

Mrs. John Hyde Braly Is Hostess To Chapter

General Richard Gridley chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, met at the home of Mrs. John Hyde Braly, 505 North Brand boulevard, Thursday afternoon. The speaker was Mrs. Sedgewick, regent of the Colonial chapter of Minneapolis, Minn., whose subject was "Americanization Work in Minneapolis."

Mrs. Sedgewick said that the state of Minnesota is made up largely of foreigners, and one person in every five is of German parentage. The population of Minneapolis is largely Scandinavian. One hundred and fifty women have taken out their naturalization papers through the influence of the D. A. R.

Mrs. Watson of Minneapolis also spoke briefly on the work being done in that city. She is a member of the same chapter as Mrs. Sedgewick. Mrs. Seydel, state regent of Michigan, gave a brief talk on similar work being done in her state. There were a number of visiting D. A. R. members present who brought greetings from their various organizations. After the meeting a social hour over the teacups was enjoyed.

Margery M'Coy Ill; Reported Recovering

Margery McCoy, 12-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. McCoy, 218 North Maryland avenue, is reported improving from a condition of drowsiness which has overcome her for the last month. It is said that she recognizes people at times and a few minutes later will not. Otherwise she seems perfectly normal. According to her uncle, Dr. Frank McCoy, the case is not one of well-defined sleeping sickness, although Dr. J. E. Eckles, city health officer, considers it as a mild form of the unusual disease.

SACRAMENTO, March 5. — With Monday the last day the King tax bill can become a law and still be effective for the present fiscal year, the final fight to pass the administration bill is due in the assembly today.

FORMER SENATOR FROM NEVADA IS SHOT BY ENEMY

SLIGHTLY WOUNDED WHILE IN HIS OFFICE PREPARING TO RETURN HOME

WASHINGTON, March 5.—Former Senator Henderson of Nevada was shot in the wrist today by a crank in the senate office building.

Henderson's assailant gave the name of Grock and said he was from Nevada. Police said that Grock was mentally unbalanced.

Henderson's friends stated that Grock had a disagreement with him in Nevada twenty years ago and that Grock had been following Henderson about ever since. He came to Washington this week determined to get "a settlement out of Henderson," he told the police.

Term Expired Yesterday

Henderson, whose term in the senate expired yesterday, was in his office cleaning up, preparatory to returning to Nevada, when Grock entered and demanded to see him at once.

Members of Henderson's office force asked him to wait a minute, but he insisted on being admitted to Henderson's private office. He made so much disturbance that Henderson came out and said to him:

"It is not convenient for me to see you today. You will have to come in tomorrow or some other day."

"I will see you now," said Grock, drawing a revolver. He began shooting.

Henderson threw up his right arm and a bullet hit him in the wrist, passing through the wrist.

Maine Senator Assists

Grock was disarmed by Henderson and his office force, assisted by Senator Fernald of Maine, who had just entered the office.

Henderson was taken to the office of Senator Ball, Delaware, who is a physician. Grock was taken in charge by capitol police.

Ball said the bullet ranged down into the fleshy part of the forearm, missing the bone. Grock was taken to the New Jersey avenue police station.

Officers Are Chosen At Chapter Meeting

Chapter B. A., P. E. O., held its regular business meeting yesterday at the home of Mrs. Florence Wintersgill, 417 North Louise street, at which time the following officers were elected for the coming year: Mrs. Madeline Kelley, president; Mrs. Beryle Cross, vice-president; Mrs. Eva Cunningham, recording secretary; Mrs. Florence Wintersgill, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Bertha Dodds, treasurer; Mrs. Effie Chaplin and Mrs. Elizabeth Brown, guards.

Mrs. Elizabeth Downing was initiated into the chapter. After the meeting refreshments were served to the eighteen members present. The next meeting will be March 18 at the home of Mrs. O. O. Clark, 346 North Louise street.

Edna Miller Is Hurt When Struck By Auto

Edna Miller received lacerations and contusions about the head and face when she was knocked from the wheel on which she was riding on Wilson avenue between Central and Orange by a car driven by Robert J. Vaughn, 212 North Glendale avenue. Little Miss Miller, who resides at 231½ North Orange street, was taken to the Glendale sanitarium and hospital, where her injuries were dressed, and she was returned home later in the evening.

Mr. Vaughn, in reporting the accident to the police, stated that the girl rode out from an alleyway which is obscured by a board fence. He immediately applied the brakes when he saw the crash was inevitable.

Here Is Your Chance to Express Your Views; Rules For Contest Announced; Closes On March 12

Hail, Prosperity, Hail!

While others herald the advent of prosperity, it is right here in Glendale today. This city is undoubtedly the most prosperous city of its size in the United States.

Never were conditions brighter from a building standpoint; never were conditions better from a civic standpoint; never were possibilities greater from a municipal standpoint.

Business IS good. Six new business structures have been announced within this week; bond issues for a civic center, increased water facilities and parks to the sum of $275,000 are to be voted upon; bond issues for schools are contemplated; a freeholders' city charter is another subject to be decided.

All of which brings PROSPERITY TODAY.

Therefore, The Glendale Evening News announces that it will celebrate Prosperity Week, beginning next Monday.

All have seen the growth of the city as recorded in the stories of eight years ago as compared with today. But to tell what one sees, to tell what one knows of HOW GOOD conditions are in Glendale, there will be $50 IN PRIZES offered by The Glendale Evening News for the three best letters on "Glendale's Prosperity."

On page 4 you will find the rules for this contest, so sit right down tonight and write your idea as to why Glendale is prosperous.

It may be your personal experience, it may be what you have learned from others while living here for the subject is latitudinous and truly

Ten Million In Bonds Election Is Proposed

SACRAMENTO, March 5. — The first proposal before the state legislature brought by the Tax Investigation and Economy league was the calling of a special election on a proposed $10,000,000 bond issue.

The bond issue was suggested by Max Thelen, former railroad commissioner and now in the employ of public utility corporations. Thelen declared the tax association was in accordance with Governor Stephens' special message to the legislature which suggested a $10,000,000 bond issue, $5,000,000 for the University of California buildings and $5,000,000 for other institutions.

Thelen's proposal was brought out in the budget hearing before the members of the senate and assembly yesterday afternoon. His suggestions was followed by a remark from Speaker Henry Wright of the assembly that the tax association's plans reminded him "of the man who was determined to live within his income, even if he had to borrow money to do it."

Senator Lyman King, author of the King tax bill, declared a special election would cost approximately not less than $800,000.

Thelen later admitted on question that some of the regents of the University of California were numbered among the members of the Tax Economy and Investigation league.

PROVIDENT

Did you ever think of the real significance of the word? It is FULL of meaning. It suggests foresightedness—looking ahead—providing for the future as well as for the present.

Because of an unwarranted prejudice in the minds of some who do not understand its great value and low cost the life insurance companies are looking for a word which will take the place of "Long Endowment." What word could better convey the idea intended than to say a "PROVIDENT" policy. The NAME of our fine company is not the least of its many superior qualities which make it the ideal of all life insurance companies.

We believe not only in protecting the family against death, but also against the poverty of old age.

EIGHTEEN NEW, SIX USED FORDS SOLD SINCE MARCH 1

PLENTY OF PEP IS DISPLAYED BY LOCAL AGENCY; WARNS PROSPECTIVE BUYERS

"Snap into it. The lull is past and normal conditions are at hand. Go after your share of prosperity."

This is the spirit of pep and optimism that is fairly buzzing around the Ford agency this week. As a result, eighteen new Fords and six used Fords sold was the business done up to noon Friday since March 1.

"Things could have been better, but if they had been we would have had to put on a night force," said Sales Manager A. M. Land.

"It's a case of go out and work and work hard," says Mr. Land. "For the past two years automobile salesmen and dealers have had a glforiously lazy time of it, but since last fall it has been a case of the survival of the fittest; hustle and hustle hard for new business.

"Conditions are rapidly adjusting themselves and the fact that all of the eastern automobile factories closed down for short periods makes the outlook for the spring rush rather dubious as far as prompt deliveries are concerned.

Jesse E. Smith, local Ford agent, says he firmly believes that within sixty days it will require an additional sixty to ninety days to make delivery on a Ford car of any model. "The wise buyer is getting his right now," said Mr. Smith.

"It is true immediate delivery can be made for a few days now, but only for a limited period. The Glendale agency is particularly fortunate in that two carloads of cars arrived this past week, twelve cars to the carload and but for that we would be seriously up against it even today.

"The prospective purchaser of a new car is wise if he anticipates the future and buys now or at least protects himself by placing his order for the car he expects to own within the next six months."

MOVIE AND TALK ON NATURE STUDY

DR. WILLIAM L. FINLEY TO BE SPEAKER IN BEHALF OF LOCAL SCHOOLS

Luther Burbank's birthday is March 7. The California legislature in 1909 honored it by making it California bird and arbor day, and as such it has been so observed throughout the state ever since.

This year the nature study department of the Glendale city schools declares it is fortunate in being able to bring Dr. William L. Finley, game commissioner of Oregon and national lecturer for the Audubon societies, to Glendale to talk to the children and show his moving picture entitled "Wild Animal and Bird Life."

All nine schools are combining and the Palace Grand auditorium has been secured for a special matinee Monday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock, the proceeds from which will be used to purchase nature study books for use in the schools.

Grandmother's Wash

Grandmother had a big cistern she was proud of. Most likely too, she made her own soft soap of pure wood lye and animal fat without borax or resin. And Grandmother was famous for her beautiful linens; her "wash" was always a work of art.

It is true we can't improve much on Grandmother's methods, so we are duplicating them in our modern laundry in a scientific way.

We duplicate not only the banished cistern, the wind driven clothes-reel and the sunshine, but we use a soap that even Grandmother herself would admit to be better than her best.

It's this combination of old-fashioned standards with modern scientific methods that enables us to give your family linens the snowy whiteness that Grandmother used to glory in.

Telephone and we'll call for your weekly bundle.

READ RULES CAREFULLY AND THEN WRITE BRIEFLY OF REASON FOR VIEWS

no one thing is responsible for the present prosperity of Glendale.

The judges of this contest, which will close next Saturday night, March 12, will be selected because of their high standing and lack of personal acquaintanceship with contestants.

They will make their decision on the literary merit of the letters, as well as the thought.

Remember that positively no letter will be considered which is illegible or written on both sides of the paper. Write only on one side of each sheet. The letters should be from 200 to 300 words in length.

Prizes will be awarded as follows:

First prize, $25.
Second prize, $15.
Third prize, $10.

Worth working for, isn't it?

And copies of The Glendale Evening News' prosperity week editions will undoubtedly be sent to the four corners of the earth advertising the possibilities here.

PROBLEMS OF CITY UNDER DISCUSSION BY DIRECTORS

If we were to stop growing you would not hear anything of the water question."

Asks Charter Support

Bert P. Woodard, chairman of the board of freeholders which drafted the proposed city charter, solicited the support of the board for carrying the coming election. In his opinion the board has given the voters the opportunity of adopting a better charter than the one the city of Glendale now has, which is a general form for cities of the sixth class.

Judge F. H. Lowe also spoke on the desirability of the charter and asked support for the municipal civic center, swimming pool and park bond issues. W. R. Phelon also appeared with the committtee asking the chamber to indorse these projects.

After discussion the entire matter was referred to the Forum at its next noonday lunch, which will be held in the Masonic temple Wednesday, March 9, at 12:15. Speakers on both sides of all the questions will give five-minute talks.

The committee on headquarters and accommodations was instructed to continue its work. Directors Gregg, Campbell and Bentley were appointed a committee to report on a settlement with the American social reserve for conducting the reorganization campaign. Director Kent will serve as the chamber's representative on the Christian Endeavor convention publicity committee.

The report of the equipment committee was accepted, the office furniture being inspected. It was purchased through the Page-Trice furniture store of Glendale at materially reduced prices, according to David L. Gregg, chairman of the committee.

BLUSHES UNSEEN IN THE DARK

Clean proto plays are now promised by the producers. When gun play, lewdness and suggestiveness are eliminated, the movies will be even more popular than at present.

THOUSANDS OF JOBS WILL BE FILLED BY HARDING

NEW PRESIDENT IS NOW AT HIS DESK; CONFERENCES WITH CABINET HEADS

By RAYMOND CLAPPER
United Press Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, March 5.—President Harding settled down to work at his desk in the executive office adjoining the White House today.

One big job facing him was that of passing out jobs—some fifty thousand of which will ultimately be filled from a list of applicants several times as large. But only a few of the most important received attention today.

Harding expected to consult cabinet members further today regarding the assistant secretaryships of the various departments. Theodore Roosevelt has already been named assistant secretary of the navy. Ex-Congressman Thomas W. Miller of Delaware is mentioned as a possible assistant secretary of war. He saw service in France and was active in organizing the American Legion.

Many Vacancies Awaiting

Henry P. Fletcher, former ambassador to Mexico, has been chosen under-secretary of state, but there are three assistant secretaryships to be filled.

Two vacancies on the interstate commerce commission, the entire seven places on the shipping board, five on the federal reserve board, three on the United States tariff commission, two on the federal trade commission, four on the federal farm loan board and several on the railway labor board, are to be filled in the near future.

J. J. Esch, defeated for re-election to congress from Wisconsin last November, will be offered a place on the interstate commerce commission. Howard Mannington of Columbus, Ohio, long interested in public utility questions, may be offered the other post vacant.

Democrat to Get Position

Judson C. Welliver, journalist and student of economic problems, who was associated with Harding during the campaign, is expected to be offered a position on either the federal trade commission or the tariff board.

Ex-Senator George Chamberlain, Oregon, a democrat, is certain to receive a minority appointment to the shipping board.

Harding will leave the filling of thousands of postmasterships and minor appointive positions to cabinet members.

Meanwhile the White House today with its gates open for the first time since war was declared, presented an old time picture. Hundreds roamed over the lawn and through the corridors.

Harding wanted to do as little handshaking as possible today. He hopes to get the affairs of his administration under way, attend the funeral services of Champ Clark and play golf.

Annual Dance Given By Freshmen Class

With red and white streamers and Japanese lanterns decorating the gymnasium building at the Glendale Union High school last night, the Freshman A9 class held its annual dance and party. Many parents and members of the faculty were present to enjoy the program. The Freshman's own orchestra furnished the music. Ice-cream and cake were served.

GERMANY'S CABINET WILL NOT ACCEPT ALLIES' TERMS

DELEGATION DECLARES EVERY EFFORT WILL BE MADE TO AGREE BEFORE MONDAY

By CARL D. GROAT,
United Press Staff Correspondent

LONDON, March 5.—The German cabinet has unanimously opposed acceptance of the allied reparation terms, the German delegation here was informed today. The cabinet met in Berlin yesterday and the result of its deliberation was transmitted to the delegates here early today.

The allied demands, agreed upon at Paris and communicated to the German delegation here this week, called for payment of $55,000,000,000. The Germans countered a proposal for payment of only $7,290,000,000.

Resort to Secret Diplomacy

The entente and German representatives have resorted to "secret diplomacy" in an effort to avert resumption of hostilities on Monday, when the allies' ultimatum expires for acceptance of the reparations demands.

Both sides apparently realize the importance of reaching an agreement and hope through sub rosa negotiations to attain an understanding. Neither wants a breach, but, on the contrary, is doing everything possible to patch up the situation and reach an agreement over the weekend.

After unsuccessful efforts throughout the night to communicate with Sigmund Bergmann, one of the German financial experts, Premier Lloyd George's office finally got in touch with him early today. That the premier took the initiative in arranging this conference is positively known to me, since by chance I acted as interpreter for a German woman clerk concerned in the negotiations whose knowledge of English is imperfect.

Germans Hope for Success

The Germans count upon presenting additional proposals Monday which will "have a chance of success." According to my informant, they "expect to arrange something that will furnish the basis for further negotiations."

"We do not want to do anything that will lead to an abrupt termination of the conference," he said. "While we have not decided definitely just what we will offer, I can state officially we will not dress up the old proposals in a new garb."

TROUBLE AHEAD FOR HARDING

Women now demand a division of the spoils. A bargain day sale will be a mild affair compared to the women clamoring for office from the Harding administration.

According to the federal trade commission the outstanding development in the marketing of grain recently has been the entry of the farmer into the elevator business. Many farmers have co-operative elevators which they use in marketing their grain.

W. M. PLATT TELLS HIS EXPERIENCES

CAME HERE SIX YEARS AGO, STARTS IN SMALL WAY, BUILDS FINE TRADE

W. M. Platt, located at 129 South Brand boulevard, who six years ago opened a tire store at that location, is one Glendale business man who can tell the story of prosperity here by recalling his own experience.

In a little frame building; adjoining the building which now houses his tire, auto accessory, vulcanizing and oil service station, he opened business with two sewed on tires as his only stock in trade. He solicited vulcanizing business, gradually got more goods, moved into the present building four years this coming July, put in a complete line of accessories, equipped his own shop to do all sorts of vulcanizing and tire repair work, installed a gasoline service outfit, took the agency for several tire and oil concerns and he today has an excellent trade with scores of tires on his racks.

"The best that money will buy," is Mr. Platt's motto in his business. His son, Beryl Platt, who served in the navy four years, has been assisting in the store since leaving the service in September, 1920.

JAMES W. FOLEY TO GIVE PROGRAM

LITERARY SECTION OF CLUB HAS ARRANGED EXCELLENT TREAT FOR PUBLIC

The Tuesday Afternoon club, under the auspices of the literary section, is offering an "intellectual feast and a mental treat" on the night of Friday, March 18, in the Masonic temple at which time James W. Foley comes to give an evening of his own writings. This entertainment is to help swell the club house funds, toward which the club women of Glendale are lending every effort.

Mrs. A. M. Williams is at the head of the literary section of the Tuesday Afternoon club and it is the desire to secure a fine attendance on March 18. Mr. Foley is an unusually talented writer and speaker, say those who have heard him, and a large number of Glendale people are looking forward to a pleasant evening.

Amazon Story Feature Glendale Theatre Bill

Frank Mayo and Dagmar Godowsky had a narrow escape from drowning while making water scenes for "Honor Bound," Jacques Jaccard's story of the Amazon in which Mayo is starring and which is at the Glendale Theatre today only. Miss Godowsky was requested to swim from the shore to a yacht a quarter of a mile away. A rip tide exhausted her and Mayo swam to her assistance. Both were ready for the count before a launch could reach them.

Madame Clement's recital at the organ is announced as follows for tomorrow afternoon:

Overture, "Stradella," F. Von Flotow; Hymn, "Come Thou Almighty King," Felice Giardini; Selection from "Have a Heart," Wodehouse and Kern; "The Palms," J. Faure; (a) "Evening Star," from "Tannhauser" (b) "When You and I Were Young, Maggie,; Waltz, "Southern Roses," J. Strauss; Number, Selected.

Beatriz Dominguez, whom playgoers will see at the Glendale Theatre Sunday in "The Fire Cat," will be remembered by thousands who saw her as "La Bella Seville," the dancing sensation of the San Diego Exposition. She passed away in Los Angeles last week.

Standing Reward Will Be Paid For Arrests

As an inducement to citizens to aid in protecting property, the Glendale Patrol & Fire Dispatch, of which James L. Browne and Ira J. Herbert are principals, has announced a standing reward of $50 for the arrest and conviction of any persons committing burglary, theft or window breaking at any home under their protection.

In this manner they believe they will gain the utmost co-operation for their patrolmen who will safeguard property for which a nominal fee is paid. Solicitors are now busy organizing beats in the different sections of Glendale. Already the service is established downtown.

A large percentage of the mission hospitals of China, of which there are about two hundred and fifty, are destitute of hospital essentials, such as clean clothes, nursing service and pure water.

We annually consume around six hundred billion cubic feet of natural gas, which is twice the volume produced by all the gas works and coke ovens in the country.

SOUTHWEST PART OF CITY GROWING

BUSINESS CENTER IS BEING DEVELOPED; TRAFFIC IS REPORTED AS HEAVY

A new business center is developing in the southwestern part of Glendale, according to O. E. Von Oven, who is associated with Charles B. Guthrie in the real estate business.

At Windsor and San Fernando Roads, where a sharp turn in the latter gives a very attractive frontage, a coffee store, fruit and vegetable market and grocery are located. A plumber is also arranging to have quarters there and other businesses are expected to follow.

Mr. Von Oven states that practically all of the property along San Fernando Road from Brand boulevard to Windsor Road is being turned over to people who are contemplating the investment as one of commercial opportunity.

With the numerous industries already located in the southern part of Glendale, when the evening whistles blow the steady stream of factory workers going home and the motor vehicles hurrying from Hollywood to this city gives Los Feliz and San Fernando Roads the aspect of a metropolis with Officer James Mann directing the traffic which has reached almost a stage of congestion.

What Harding Receives For Being President

WASHINGTON, March 5.—The president's "on the side" fund is $25,000, provided by congress for incidental expenses—to say nothing of a private yacht and a private car and a nice big house on Pennsylvania avenue to live in. This rounds off the salary of $1,964.53 per week that the president's job pays. President Harding's profits from the job, however, will be trimmed by an income tax that was not applied to his predecessor, as the act was passed during his term.

Guides Have Hope Of Increase In Business

WASHINGTON, March 5.—The capitol guides have a hunch their business is going to pick up under the new administration.

"It has been pretty slim pickings this winter," one of them said. "The tourists haven't been hitting nearly as lively a pace here as they used to. But an era of prosperity for capitol guides is just about due, unless we all miss our guess."

Santo Domingo is larger than West Virginia and its interior is untraveled and little known.

Passengers' Baggage Must Be Protected

CINCINNATI—Passengers asleep in Pullman cars must be protected from theft of their property, according to a decision handed down by City Judge Yeatman.

The ruling said: "As a passenger would have no opportunity to watch his baggage when asleep, it follows that it is the duty of the Pullman company to maintain a reasonable watch over his property while he is occupying a berth."

SERVICE OF SUNDAY SCHOOL IS TAKEN OVER BY CLUB

DYNAMOS TO HAVE COMPLETE CHARGE OF MEETING AT PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

The Dynamos club of this city will have complete charge of the Sunday school service of the Glendale Presbyterian church Sunday, March 6. The Dynamos quartet, of which Bill Farner, Everett Anderson, Joe Rhodes and Edward Smith are members, aided by a professional organist of the club, Del Mar Wheeler, will vibrate the air with martial song.

An interesting talk will be given by Rex Kelley on the subject, "What the World Is Expecting of Young Men."

Just a month ago the club successfully carried the evening service, and every seat was taken. The club is planning to have the installation of officers and annual banquet on March 31.

OAKLAND AGENTS ARE OPTIMISTIC

GREEN & M'CLELLAN ASSERT BUSINESS IS GOOD; SELL 4 NEW, 10 USED CARS

In reviewing their past month's business, Max L. Green and F. W. McClellan of the local Oakland agency, are extremely optimistic in regard to business conditions as they are related to the automobile industry.

In February, Green & McClellan sold four new Oakland cars and ten used cars, a good showing, they think, in view of the slump in the automobile business the past few months.

"The prospects are very bright for the present month," said Mr. Green, "and there is every indication that car sales will soon be back to their former basis."

DANGEROUS HABIT WITH SWITCH KEY

E. W. CIZEK GIVES WARNING TO MOTORISTS REGARDING HABIT OF DRIVERS

Some motorists think they are not so apt to misplace the key to the starting switches of their cars if they leave the key right in the switch itself.

"This often proves to be a dangerous habit, however, says E. W. Cizek, of the Willard Storage Battery Service station. "We frequently have car owners towed into our service station because their batteries have been drained absolutely dry as a result of someone having turned the switch to on.

"It is especially dangerous to leave the key in a switch when the car is kept in a public garage where all sorts of people are coming and going. Sometimes it is necessary to do so in order that the garage man can move the cars about. But in such a case, it is wise to ask the manager to caution his men about always having the key turned to the off position after use."

If You Doubt This Figure It Yourself

An escaped statistician has worked out the following facts and figures concerning the flying activities at March field, Riverside, during the year of 1920.

The total distance flown by all planes at the station is equal to forty-six times around the globe. Jules Verne's madly hurrying traveler made the circuit in eighty days. According to the March field statistics, with an airplane he would have been able to have circumnavigated the earth in thirteen days, at an average speed of eighty miles an hour. The Riverside machines covered 1,150,000 miles during the twelve months.

Shark fishing on the Pacific coast is being developed into an industry. Near Vancouver Island sharks are caught at a depth of 125 feet. Many of them are thirty-five feet long, and are known as mud sharks, not maneaters. The skins and livers are utilized similar to the methods in vogue on the Atlantic coast.

Argentina is manufacturing paper from a species of bog grass called "paja brava." The grass grows during the entire year and in swampy sections it has been considered a nuisance.

COMPLETING PLANS FOR FATHER AND SON BANQUET

ANNUAL GATHERING IS IN CHARGE OF COMMITTEE; DATE IS MARCH 15

Plans are rapidly being completed for the annual Father and Son banquet which is to be held under the auspices of the Glendale Hi-Y clubs at the First Methodist church, Tuesday, March 15, at 6:30 p. m.

The committee in charge of the affair is composed of the following: Rex. C. Kelly, Alfred W. Cookman, Mr. Murphy, Dale T. Wood, Fred Stofft and Cecil Wilson.

The program is not as yet complete. It is planned to have one of the Hi-Y boys announce the banquet at every Sunday school in the city this coming Sunday in order to get the fathers out to meet their sons' friends' fathers.

"Men are easily managed—if you know how to do it," says wise little Bunty, in "Bunty Pulls the Strings," a Goldwyn picture, which is at the Palace Grand theatre today only. Bunty surely knows how to do it, for she "manages" two harum scarum brothers, a stern Scotch parent, and an awkward bashful sweetheart, to the best good of all concerned.

If it had not been for Bunty in this Reginald Barker production, it is quite safe to say a very different and probably tragic ending would have been made to the story. Leatrice Joy plays the part of Bunty, with Russell Simpson, Raymond Hatton, Cullen Landis and Casson Ferguson in the cast.

In addition to this nip of rare old Scotch, a Chester two-part comedy with "Snooky" in "The One Best Pet" and an excellent orchestration will make you want to see the show.

Sunday, Monday and Tuesday "Midsummer Madness" is the feature with the Christie comedy, "Striking Models," as an added attraction.

GLENDALE ELKS TO PLAY MERCHANTS NEXT SUNDAY

SPEEDY SQUAD WILL CLASH ON LOCAL LOT; LINEUP OF LODGE PLAYERS

Glendale Elks' baseball team will compete with the Glendale Merchants' team Sunday on the Elks' diamond at Cerritos and Glendale avenues. The Merchants' team, under the management of J. H. Crane, is determined to defeat the fast Elks' nine and has obtained the services of a well-known, semi-professional pitcher, Frank Goss. If he lives up to his reputation, he will make it more or less difficult for the local herd to keep up the splendid winning streak, but if the Elks are successful, they will become the champions of Glendale and vicinity.

Line-up for Sunday

The line-up of the Elks for Sunday's game, as outlined by Manager Vincent Salmacia, is as follows:

George Hastings .....pitcher
W. Bolin .....catcher
Lehman Crandall .....catcher
Claude Peters .....first base
Marcellus Doll .....second base
Ray Franklin .....third base
Howard "Doc" McGillis ....short stop
Rupert Malone .....left field
Randolph Doll .....center field
Listner .....right field

These boys are members of Glendale B. P. O. E., No. 1289, and most of them are citizens of Glendale. On account of weather conditions, it has been impossible to have the grandstand erected, but before long facilities will be provided for the spectators.

CHRISTENING IN PRIVATE CHAPEL

DAUGHTER OF WAR HERO IS HONORED; FATHER SPEAKER TO GLENDALE WOMEN

Of much interest to Glendale women who heard Captain Paul Perigord, famed French war hero, speak before the Tuesday Afternoon club about a month ago, is the mention accorded the christening of his daughter, Jeanne Perigord, in the private chapel of Bishop Joseph H. Johnson of the Episcopal diocese of Los Angeles on February 27.

The mother was prominent socially in Pasadena and the wedding of the couple occurred a little more than a year ago on Captain Perigord's return from war.

Captain Perigord, then a priest-teacher in an American school, entered the French army at the very outset of the war and served his native land with remarkable distinction. He has many medals, particularly for his heroism at Verdun, and was made a member of the French High commission to this country.

Member of Faculty

On his return from war Captain Perigord became a member of the faculty of California Institute of Technology. A great stir was created by announcement of his engagement with Miss Emily McBride, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. J. H. McBride, her father one of the most noted physicians of California.

Then the announcement was made by the Catholic bishop of St. Paul, where Captain Perigord had been confirmed in the priesthood, that the war hero would be excommunicated.

Godparents for little Jeanne Perigord, who was born in the Good Samaritan Hospital in Los Angeles, were William C. Baker, Mrs. W. K. Jewett and Mrs. Charles F. Holder, who appeared to stand proxy for the Duchess de Richelieu of France, friend of the Perigords and godmother for the infant.

Motor Makers Get Many More Orders

DETROIT—"With an increase in orders for March delivery of 30 to 40 per cent over that of February, I see only a steady improvement in the automobile industry," said D. W. Yeomans, vice president and treasurer of the Continental Motors company, where conditions are considered a barometer of the automobile industry. One thousand men have been employed at the Detroit plant in getting out orders for February delivery. This number will be augmented with the increase in orders, which Mr. Yeomans expects through the spring and summer.

Wilsons Going Direct To Their New Home They Recently Bought

WASHINGTON, March 5.—When President Wilson left the White House yesterday, he went direct to his home at 2340 S street, the place he and Mrs. Wilson purchased some weeks ago.

The new Wilson home is in one of the most fashionable sections of the city and is not far from the home the Hardings are leaving for the White House. Like most of Washington's big homes, it sits almost directly on the street and is built very close to an adjoining house.

In the rear of the house is a large lot and garden, which extends back to Massachusetts avenue, and is fenced in by a high concrete wall. Since the Wilsons purchased the house it has been fitted with an elevator.

It is in this house that Wilson expects to do most of his writing on political issues and he may have public statements to make on issues of the day, according to White House officials. He will not, however, do anything to embarrass his successor.

Joseph P. Tumulty, who has been Wilson's secretary for ten years, also will stay in Washington, having purchased a house not far from that of his chief. Tumulty expects to practice law here.

VARIED ASSORTMENT OF NEW VOLUMES JUST ISSUED

LIST OF BOOKS PUT FORTH THIS WEEK BY LIBRARY; REVIEW TAKES PLACE

The following list of books were discussed at the book review at the Glendale public library Thursday and presented to the public for circulation:

"Memoirs and Letters of Dolly Madison," wife of James Madison, president of the United States, edited by her grand-niece.

"Reconstruction in Philosophy," by John Dewey. This new book comprises a lecture delivered upon invitation before the Imperial University at Tokio. It is his first attempt to give to the world a view of his philosophy as a whole.

"Fundamentals of Botany," by Gager.

Relative to Philosophy

"An Introduction to Philosophy," by Holly Estil Cunningham, A. M., Ph. D., head of the department of philosophy in the State University of Oklahoma. In keeping with present day methods of research, the author discusses the backgrounds out of which philosophy has grown.

"Ancient World," west, revised edition by Willis Mason. Includes the Oriental people, the Greeks, the Graeco-Oriental world, Rome, The Roman Empire and the Romano-Teutonic Europe.

"The Wasted Island," by Eimar O'Duffy. In this live story of a young Irishman the author presents a vivid picture of Ireland during recent years.

"While Paris Laughed," being pranks and passions of the poet Tricotin, by Leonard Merrick.

Thrilling Story Is Told

"The Great Pearl Secret," by C. N. and A. M. Williamson. Rarely have the Williamsons presented more lovable people or a more enthralling story than is spun in this tale of vivid and intriguing threads.

"Told in the East," by Talbot Mundy. India—spice fed, heat cracked is the languorous, mysterious land of romance and adventure. This book is comprised of three novelettes, two of India and her great mutiny and one of Arabia and the Persian Gulf, a wonderful setting.

"Lady Lility," by Stephen McKenna, whose knowledge and observation of social and political life in London is re-enforced by a genius which has made his book a remarkable and engrossing picture of contemporary English society.

WILSON'S CABINET REMOVALS MANY

ONLY FOUR REMAIN ON DUTY OUT OF LIST SELECTED EIGHT YEARS AGO

WASHINGTON, March 5. — Only four of the cabinet which President Wilson appointed eight years ago remained in office when the Wilson administration ended. One of these four had held two posts.

Secretary of the Navy Daniels, Secretary of Labor Wilson and Postmaster General Burleson are three veterans. Secretary of the Treasury Houston started out in the post of secretary of agriculture.

There have been three secretaries of state. William Jennings Bryan and Robert Lansing resigned after disputes with the president. Bainbridge Colby succeeded Lansing.

Lindley M. Garrison quit as secretary of war after a dispute with his chief and was succeeded by Newton D. Baker.

James C. McReynolds became a supreme court justice and was succeeded as attorney general by Thomas W. Gregory, who quit for financial reasons. A. Mitchell Palmer succeeded him.

Changes Are Many

William G. McAdoo resigned as secretary of the treasury for financial reasons. Carter Glass, who succeeded him, became senator from Virginia, and was succeeded by Secretary Houston.

Secretary Houston was succeeded in the agriculture portfolio by Edwin T. Meredith.

Secretary of the Interior Franklin K. Lane quit to enter business. John Barton Payne succeeded him. Secretary of Commerce Redfield resigned for the same reason, and Joshua Alexander succeeded him.

Of the present cabinet, Secretaries Baker, Colby, Payne and Attorney General Palmer will practice law after quitting official life.

Secretary Daniels will edit his newspaper. Postmaster Burleson will retire to his Texas farm, and Secretary Wilson to his farm in Pennsylvania.

The plans of Secretaries Houston and Alexander are as yet undecided.

SUPPLIES NEED OF NATIVES

The cocoanut palm supplies all the needs of the natives of the South Seas. The leaves of the tree when young are eaten, when old woven into clothes, baskets, bedding, paper, hats and thatch. Spears, arrows, brooms, torches and paddles are made of the ribs of the older leaves, while the flowers yield wine, sugar and vinegar. The fruit yields food, oil, matting and cord.

Would Save Historic Films For Posterity

WASHINGTON — Senator Phelan proposes, in a bill just introduced by him, that every motion picture film of historic value shall be preserved for all future generations in the National Museum and renewed often enough to keep the scenes fresh and brilliant as when first taken.

His bill also provides for the custody and preservation of all reproductions of the human voice which may bear historical messages to coming generations.

South Dakota Senate Votes for Film Censor

PIERRE, S. D.—A bill providing censorship of all moving picture films and advertising matter was approved by the senate of the state legislature, and amended so as to become effective August 1. The house, which has already passed the bill, must act on the amendment before the measure is sent to the governor for approval.

CHANGES VOTED IN POLICY RELATIVE TO SERVICES

EXCEPTIONS ARE DECIDED ON FOR OUTSIDE TERRITORY BY TRUSTEES' BOARD

Acting on a communication submitted by T. W. Watson, city manager, the Board of Trustees Thursday night made a change in its policy regarding the prohibiting the making of extensions to the water and light business and the installations of new services in all territory outside the city limits.

The resolution regarding the policy was passed by the board a week ago last night and appeared in full in the official minutes published in The Evening News a week ago today.

The communication of the city manager filed last night was as follows:

"In regard to resolution adopted by your board at your last meeting prohibiting the making of extensions to the water and light business and the installation of new services in all territory outside of the city limits of Glendale, we respectfully submit the following:

Raises Several Questions

"We understand this order to prohibit the taking on of any new business in the furnishing of water and electricity in territory outside of the city of Glendale and we are enforcing it accordingly. We interpret the exception "in cases where city has already assumed a legal obligation therefor" to refer to services being rendered at the present time. The enforcement of this resolution has raised several questions which we submit herewith for your consideration.

"First. Is it advisable to make this resolution effective in cases where houses have already been built without previous notice that water and light would not be supplied.

"Second. Should the terms of this resolution be made effective immediately in territory inside of other municipalities that is being served with water or electricity by the city of Glendale? The city of Glendale is serving water to a district inside the city of Los Angeles that seems to have no other source of supply and it has occurred to us that it might be well to take this matter up with the city of Los Angeles before enforcing this resolution. The same applies to a small district furnished within the city of Eagle Rock.

For Fire Protection

"Third What effect will this have have on the proposition now under consideration to furnish fire protection to the Pacific Mineral & Chemical company?

"Fourth. Should we notify the Sycamore Canyon Water company that the temporary supply now being furnished will be discontinued?

"Fifth. Shall we discontinue serving the Kelly Water system by carrying that water supply through our mains from the canyon and delivering it to their system through a meter as we are doing at the present time?"

Action Taken by Board

In answer to the city manager's questions, the board, on motion of Trustee Bartlett, decided that an exception be made in regard to No. 1 and No. 3, and that Nos. 2, 4 and 5 be considered in the committee of the whole and acted upon, probably, next Thursday night.

MANAGER WATSON WRITES ABOUT CITY, PAST, PRESENT AND FUTURE

Likens Glendale to Husky, Growing American Boy and Predicts Good From Associations

T. W. Watson, city manager, at the request of The Evening News, has prepared the following article on Glendale, eight years ago and now, in connection with the eighth anniversary week being celebrated.

By T. W. WATSON,
City Manager of Glendale

The city of Glendale, from its inception as a municipality and especially during the last eight to ten years, has developed all of the chief characteristics of a husky American youth.

Just imagine a robust youth of four years. Suddenly this youth determines on a campaign of growth and expansion. He pursues that determination vigorously. During the next ten years he increases in stature and weight at the rate of 393.4%. Would not his fond parents at that date have some problems to deal with in housing and caring for their husky offspring? Such parents would, no doubt, be in a good frame of mind to appreciate the situation that confronts our municipality after just such a period of expansion and development.

Ten Years from Now

If the past few years of intense growth with its resulting problems such as the need for increased school facilities, the housing problem, larger business and commercial buildings, transportation and traffic problems, extensions and betterments to utilities and sewage disposal are taxing our present resources to plan and provide means for their solution, what will be our situation ten years hence if plans are not well laid now looking toward the future? The fact is, the trouble (if you call this trouble) has just begun. This husky youth has passed from its boyhood days and is now well started in that rapidly-developing period of youth when the boy grows into manhood, as it were, over night, and while the foundation stones of the Greater Glendale have been well laid during this past period and the character of this youth well established the superstructure of the future Glendale will be reared during the period we are now entering. This period will tax the resources and means of our citizens to the limit.

Municipal Improvements

When we look at cities no larger than Glendale and see that they have well-developed parks, beautiful and commodious high schools, buildings and grounds, fine equipped hotels, public buildings that are the pride of the community and that have partially at least solved their problem of sewage disposal, at first thought we would say that Glendale has been slow. When we realize, however, that the city of Glendale as we now see it has largely developed within the last ten years, we know that there has not been time in that short period to accomplish all these things. We should realize also that during a large part of this period all public works were suspended on account of the great war.

To our newer citizens we would say that it should be fully realized that Glendale is but a youth of fourteen years in order to account for the fact that there are so many problems confronting us at the present time.

Co-operation, that is the key to the situation. It is in the air. This spirit is manifest in the organization of improvement associations in all sections of the city.

Show Civic Interest

The people of the central western section are expressing their civic interest by the organization of the West Glendale Progressive league. There are many matters of civic interest that will, no doubt, receive the attention of the association.

The people of the eastern section have organized the East Broadway Improvement association. This section comprises some of the most valuable and beautiful acreage within the city of Glendale. No other civic body in the city of Glendale has greater opportunities to assist in the up-building and development of the city than this one.

The West Broadway Citizens' committee is working faithfully to bring about the improvement of that important thoroughfare. Several meetings of property holders have been held and at each meeting a splendid spirit of co-operation was exhibited Plans for the dedication and the improvement of a roadway extending from the present improved portion of Broadway to San Fernando Road on practically a straight line are well under way.

The property holders and residents of West Oak street believe in co-operation and have organized the Oak Street Improvement association. the main purpose of which is to secure the improvement of that street and before that is done the laying of new water mains.

Commended for Action

We have the Verdugo Woodlands Improvement association, a body of enthusiastic residents of the Verdugo Canyon District organized for the purpose of developing that beautiful section and already they have taken positive action that will no doubt result in obtaining for their district a sewer system. These people are to be commended for this action. The consummation of their plan will assure the future development of their section as a high-class residence district.

The Grand View Improvement association lately organized is showing a vigorous and active interest in civic affairs and improvements for that district. Although this association is less than two months' old they have crystallized the sentiment of the district in favor of the formation of a municipal improvement district to issue bonds in the sum of $30,000 to cover the cost of a water distribution system that will make available in that section the abundant water supply that the city is ready to furnish by means of the pumps at the main pumping plant and the trunk line lately installed on Grand View avenue. This association is composed of real enthusiastic Glendale people. They want Glendale utility service—water, light, gas, telephone and all the rest. They want Glendale mail service. They want to be in the Glendale school district and any one who will attend the meetings of their association will be thoroughly convinced that they are going to obtain all these and many more improvements for their district.

Many Plans Under Way

The Brand Boulevard Improvement association recently formed has well in hand plans for bringing about the improvement of those portions of Brand boulevard that have not been paved and also the lowering of the Pacific Electric tracks, especially through the Lomita park section.

The Citizens' commission organized by authority of the Board of Trustees to work out in conjunction with Sanitary Engineers Olmsted & Gillelen a plan for sewage disposal is another evidence that Glendale citizenship is responding to the call of their city for service.

Then there is the Chamber of Commerce. The Big Brother of them all. The reorganization of the Chamber of Commerce at this time is opportune. This organization with its strength of a recently-acquired membership of over five hundred and with a large income guaranteed by this membership will afford the organization the means by which all of the civic forces of the community may combine and co-ordinate their efforts.

Glendale is indeed fortunate in having this spirit of co-operation at a time when there are so many civic problems that need attention.

C. O. PULLIAM IS ONE OF PIONEERS

IN PRESENT LOCATION FOR 14 YEARS; E. O. KIEFER BECOMES PARTNER

C. O. Pulliam, senior partner in the firm of Pulliam & Kiefer, is prominent among the business men of Glendale who are "old timers." Mr. Pulliam has been engaged in business in Glendale for fourteen years and has been in his present location, 305 East Broadway, where he has a thoroughly up-to-date undertaking establishment, since January 1, 1909. Mr. Pulliam erected the building at that time, but has made many changes and improvements since that time to conform to the needs of his business.

Emil O. Kiefer became an assistant to Mr. Pulliam a few years ago and, on his return from two years' service to his country during the war, was taken into the firm as a partner.

The services of Mrs. Nina Brackney, a woman of much experience, were secured to assist with the cases of women and children a few months ago.

Old Cabineteers Will Hang Around Awhile

WASHINGTON, March 5. — Most of the present cabinet members profess a consuming desire to get away from Washington as soon as possible after their terms expire. However, as a matter of courtesy, the outgoing cabinet members will remain, more or less, about their offices for a few days acquainting their successors with the work.

In every department there are trusted experts of long service upon whom the secretaries depend to see that everything runs smoothly. Changes of administration do not affect the status of these specialists. After the conferences between the new and old secretaries of the various departments, and a few days of ex-officio assistance, as it were, by the retiring officials, the new cabinet members will rely upon the old bureau-chief wheel-horses for such assistance as is necessary until the new secretary himself gets a confident grip on the wheel.

REVIEW OF GROWTH OF HIGH SCHOOL IS PRESENTED

FACTS AND FIGURES DISPLAY WONDERFUL SHOWING MADE BY LOCAL INSTITUTION

By GEORGE U. MOYSE,
Principal Glendale Union High School

Our Union High School district includes the desirable foothill section north of Los Angeles and includes Glendale city, Eagle Rock City, La Crescenta and Tujunga grammar school districts.

Everyone knows of the wonderful growth of this residence section during the last ten years. The census report has shown this in detail.

A review of the growth of our Union High school shows that the increase in enrollment has kept pace with the increase in population. A summary of this school growth and a comparison of our enrollment with that of other high schools in the state brings out many interesting facts.

The total enrollment for each year, as given below, is taken from the annual official report:

Year Ending	Ttl. Enrollment
June, 1910	203
" 1911	252
" 1912	296
" 1913	361
" 1914	424
" 1915	453
" 1916	607
" 1917	653
" 1918	722
" 1919	777
" 1920	916
Sept., 1920, to Mar., 1921	1,028

The percentage of gain during this period to June, 1920, is 351 per cent.

Enrollment Doubles Since 1915

Since 1915 the enrollment has doubled. A boys' temporary gymnasium has been built. Aside from this, no additional class room space has been provided during this time. As a result, the class rooms are badly overcrowded and classes are being held in rooms not intended for their use. Students in drawing are deprived of their just opportunities when they have to do their work in a cooking room.

In February, 1920, the enrollment for the year was 838. In February, 1921, 1027, a gain of 189. This shows a gain of over 22 per cent for this present year.

The new class rooms now being built will not restore normal working conditions to the school, even on the day of their completion.

The seating capacity of the auditorium is 550. The enrollment for the year to date is 1028. One of the strongest unifying factors of school life, that of coming together as one group, is entirely impossible.

Record in State ine

The important place this school holds among the schools of the state is not generally known. In the quality of its work and its general scholastic rank, it is second to none. The greatest surprise is its important place on account of its size. According to the report just received from the office of the Superintendent of Public Instruction at Sacramento, there are 298 day high schools in the state. In this list, Glendale High at the beginning of the year ranked twenty-sixth in enrollment. The great gain during this year would, no doubt, now place it still higher in the list.

Several of the big cities like Los Angeles, San Francisco and Oakland have each several high school districts within the state. Our district in its enrollment holds sixteenth place.

The growth of the school and the growth of the community has each interacted upon the other. The excellence of the schools here has been one of the strongest factors in drawing desirable residents to this section. The problem of continuing to keep the schools here in the front rank must remain one of the most important ones before the people. The phenomenal growth of the school shows that a big generous plan must be formed and followed in order to do this.

Seeking Job Is Now Sport For Thousands

WASHINGTON, March 5. — Now comes the open season for pestering the president about postmasterships. Speaking from a presidential standpoint the worry isn't as bad as it used to be when the civil service wasn't even supposed to apply to postofficeships. Of course, there are those hereabouts who dabble deep in practical politics who might maintain that the civil service is still merely a beautiful theory as far as postmasters are concerned and the boy with the biggest political pull invariably gets the appointment.

The mails of senators and congressmen are all cluttered up these days with petitions seeking postmastership recommendations, for, other things being equal, the president's appointments to postmasterships usually are the recommendations of the members of congress of his party.

Local Legion To Aid Redondo Post Carnival

At a meeting last night of the Glendale American Legion Post it was decided that members here would aid the Redondo post in the first annual carnival and midwinter frolic of Southern California Legionnaires at Redondo Beach, April 2 and 3. Vincent Salmacia was appointed manager to reorganize the band and Commander E. O. Kiefer, Adjutant Harry Bracken, Treasurer Jesse Flower and Gordon Clayton are a committee to get the Glendale service men interested in the event.

Plans to enter a basketball team in a Legion league were also made and it is expected that the local post will come to the forefront in athletic events. Among the visitors at last night's meeting were Comrades Jacobs, Casey and Salazar from Redondo.

MANY HAVE PHYSICAL DEFECTS

Figures laid before the house immigration committee by the public health service show that 9799 immigrants of 10,002 who arrived at Ellis Island during the last six months of 1920 and whom the health service certified as unable to earn a living because of physical defects or disease were admitted by immigration officials. Also of 112 persons certified as having mental defects, fifty were admitted, and of 563 persons having loathsome or contagious diseases 167 were allowed to land.

The state department issued 164,354 passports during 1920.

Local Track Team Is Winner Over Pasadena

Glendale Union High School's track team last night won its dual meet with South Pasadena, the final score standing 60 to 49 points, "Lefty" Herman winning 25 of Glendale's points. A return meet will be held at South Pasadena March 9.

The girls' basketball team yesterday afternoon went over to Burbank High and defeated that school's quintet.

Thursday afternoon Glendale lost its baseball game with Pasadena at the latter place by a score of 4 to 1. "Lefty" Herman made the only score for Glendale, slamming out a home run.
